

Sometimes Mosquito-Bite like Swellings appear and disappear within minutes – the return, periodically, year after year, in the same location (mostly on back and neck, especially base of skull)

May 5, 2022 00:36:04 the area is red, no bump visible on camera. The fact that I was photographing that area so closely makes me think that maybe there was something palpable, however. A mosquito-like bump often rises up in the same area of my back, so even when nothing is there, I can point to tharea where it is. This is the left side mid-back, behind ribcage.

00:36:22 A mosquito-bite sized bump rises up. After about 18 seconds, it's clearly visible.

00:37:27 A little more than a minute later, the bump is even more pronounced.

00:40:05 the bump is still very pronounced. To my recollection it stayed like this for a few minutes, and then deflated as quickly as it had appeared.
